

Gadsden County has many qualified properties that could receive this recognition from the Florida Department of Agriculture. West Gadsden Historical Society will provide assistance to complete the application for land owners whose property qualifies. To qualify the property must be held within the same family for the last 100 years.